

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 18, 1890.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

The running expenses of Lathe Academy last quarter were $652.25, and the running and general expenses $1000 per month and each of the 200 students paid $25.00 per month and each of the 200 students paid $25.00 per month.

A bear killed three fatted hogs for James Stadler living in the Wash Hill last week.

Capt. Wilkinson has seen many Indian pupus.

Wash. & St. Louis at Albany, 76 cents at McMinnville, and 82 cents at Oregon City.

Four buyers in Eugene City are paying from 6 to 10 cents per pound for park and from 4 to 6 cents per pound for California.

Diphtheria still injures in McMinnville, one case has occurred last week and two serious relapses.

A Miss Kest of Portland, with a small sum of money, has made a successful application for a scholarship.

One of the most prominent office girls of the West, Fannie, has a good many students.

Eight well and handsome residences were built in McMinnville last year.

Howard building house, Salem, has already paid off about fifteen thousand dollars of his debts.

Others are engaged in putting up houses.

Andrew B. Smith, lawyer, lost Sunday near Springfield. He had fractured his children with his property, and in return was taken up the stairs.

A house on Dr. Bailey's farm in Wash. County, was burned last week while the family were in the house.

W. H. Spencer, who was arrested for killing a horse belonging to Samuel Mock, was arraigned before a judge in McMinnville, and was released on bond to appear before the next circuit court.

Engines Guard. The mail carrier in the McMinnville post office, recently heard of the recent fire at the post office in Wash. County, at Gold Beach.

Wm. Sykes of Jackson county has lost in the past 20 years 20,000 cattle kept in the California market.

Lois Luskham, a resident of Jackson county for 26 years, has died at Antelope creek on the 2d inst. aged 64.

The hull of the stricken steamer Galicia was taken by the storm last week. The cabin was recently towed to Emporia. The prospect of recovering the hull is not good.

Josephine county has a veteran of the war of 1812.

His name is James Brown; he is now in his 80s.

He never gave his pension and though bent by age, still drives his pony and though bent and physically weak makes his culture a specialty.

Jacksonville Sentinel. The stages from the south end of the state are making time owing to the heavy snows which are falling in the mountains.

Weak men and horses are being used.

The Covert case, trial consumed 17 days time in the state circuit court, that closed its regular session at Jackson county was $2,000.

The jury after a full day of deliberation, voted 10 to 2 in favor of the plaintiff.

Red Kelly, a miner, died at the Jacksonville last week.

He had been drinking heavily and was prescribed and he was directed to take a special medicine every two hours, until sleep was produced.

He was found dead in his one small cabin or with at least three-fourths of the contents of the bottle of water still clinging to his body.

He makes his living by hunting and trapping.

He was a good trapper.

He was a good trapper.